NOTICE OF APPARENT LIABILITY FOR FORFEITURE

Released: May 6, 2003

By the Enforcement Bureau, Atlanta Office:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture ("NAL"), we find Casey Network, LLC, licensee of AM radio station WRFS, apparently liable for a forfeiture in the amount of seven thousand dollars ($7,000) for willful and repeated violation of Section 73.49 of the Commission's Rules ("Rules"). Specifically, we find Casey Network, LLC apparently liable for failing to enclose the station's antenna tower within an effective locked fence.

II. BACKGROUND

2. On April 9, 2003, an agent from the FCC Enforcement Bureau's Atlanta Office inspected radio station WRFS's antenna tower in Alexander City, Alabama. The agent was accompanied by the operator on duty. The station's antenna tower had radio frequency energy at the base of the tower. The wooden fence around the base of the tower was incomplete, missing a section more than two feet in width adjacent to the tuning house that allowed unrestricted access to the tower base. The operator on duty stated he was aware the fence needed repair and that the fence had been in that condition for some time.

III. DISCUSSION

3. Section 73.49 of the Rules requires antenna towers having radio frequency potential at the base (series fed, folded unipole, and insulated base antennas) to be enclosed within effective locked fences. WRFS's antenna tower has radio frequency potential at its base. On April 9, 2003, the wooden fence surrounding the tower base was missing a complete section adjacent to the tuning house allowing unrestricted access to the tower base. The operator on duty at the station stated that the fence had been in that condition for quite some time.

- 4. Based on the evidence before us, we find Casey Network, LLC, willfully² and repeatedly³ violated Section 73.49 of the Rules by failing to maintain an effective locked fence enclosing the base of its antenna tower.
- 5. Pursuant to Section 1.80(b)(4) of the Rules,⁴ the base forfeiture amount for failing to maintain an effective locked AM tower fence is $7,000. In assessing the monetary forfeiture amount, we must also take into account the statutory factors set forth in Section 503(b)(2)(D) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended ("Act"), which include the nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of the violation, and with respect to the violator, the degree of culpability, any history of prior offenses, ability to pay, and other such matters as justice may require.⁵ Considering the entire record and applying the factors listed above, this case warrants a $7,000 forfeiture.
